INTRODUCTION

Despite challenging economic realities and slowed business growth in much of the world, demand for highly skilled finance and accounting professionals in a number of specialties remains.

Companies of all sizes and from all types of industries require talented finance and accounting teams to manage initiatives such as compliance with government regulations, audits, cash management and credit reporting. Hiring managers with access to the most current compensation and employment trends in their industries and geographies are in the best position to recruit and retain top performers in the finance and accounting fields.

Robert Half is pleased to present the Global Financial Salary Guide 2009/2010. The guide provides comprehensive data on average starting salaries for accounting and finance professionals in 21 countries: Australia, Austria, Belgium, Brazil, Canada, Czech Republic, France, Germany, Hong Kong, Ireland, Italy, Japan, Luxembourg, the Netherlands, New Zealand, Singapore, Spain, Switzerland, United Arab Emirates (Dubai), United Kingdom and the United States.

Information in the Global Financial Salary Guide 2009/2010 is based on our extensive research, including the placements we make globally, our company's ongoing surveys of senior executives, and the accumulated expertise of our staffing professionals worldwide.

UNDERSTANDING THE GUIDE

In each job category, the average salary ranges listed represent annual, starting pay only (based on gross or pre-tax amounts), as various hard-to-measure factors, ranging from seniority to job performance to work ethic, can affect ongoing pay. The salaries also do not include bonuses, incentives or other forms of compensation, such as benefits or retirement packages.

The salary ranges provided are presented in the pervading local currency for each country and are based on relevant years of experience working within a particular discipline of finance or accounting. The ranges provided represent national averages and can be affected by a number of factors, including:

- Differences in local costs of living
- Economic cycles
- Local tax policies
- Demand for specific positions

Please contact your local Robert Half branch to determine salary levels for your particular market.

Unless otherwise noted, the letters S, M and L represent small, medium and large firms, respectively. Small companies are defined as those with less than 50 employees, medium-sized companies are those with 50 to 250 employees and large companies have more than 250 employees. There is not always a difference in salary levels between the various company sizes; in those instances, you will see S/M/L.
